

MULLER RECALLED.

Dr. Meyer's Informer Questioned About His Letter-Writing.

Former Neighbors and Tradesmen Testify Against the Prisoner.

All the Alleged Conspirators Positively Identified in Court.

What new explosion John F. McIntyre hatched off in the trial of Dr. Henry C. F. Meyer was the thing that interested each of the very, very few favored ones who succeeded in gaining admission to Part II. of the Court of General Sessions this morning.

The Recorder, who suffered much from his old complaint Monday, directed that no one be admitted to the scene of the trial except the counsel, newspaper reporters and witnesses, and, as a consequence, scores of applicants for admission to the House of Detention were disappointed by the officers who guard the entrance.

Carl Muller was recalled to the witness stand this morning to be questioned by Mr. Brooke about the letter which he wrote to Dr. Meyer, shortly after the former trial, and when he was so anxious to get out of the House of Detention that he wrote to Dr. Meyer, offering to have him if he would get his lawyers to secure his release.

Here is the letter to Mr. Chandler, written in English:

HOUSE OF DETENTION, Feb. 25, 1894.

I have written to the Recorder, Mr. McIntyre, Company July 11, 1892, under condition that I should not be used as a witness against him. They did not keep that agreement, but I have now written to the Recorder, Mr. McIntyre, Company July 11, 1892, under condition that I should not be used as a witness against him. They did not keep that agreement, but I have now written to the Recorder, Mr. McIntyre, Company July 11, 1892, under condition that I should not be used as a witness against him.

Here at the House of Detention, they do not pay any of my expenses, they do not answer my letters, and will not let me see my child. I have written to the Recorder, Mr. McIntyre, Company July 11, 1892, under condition that I should not be used as a witness against him. They did not keep that agreement, but I have now written to the Recorder, Mr. McIntyre, Company July 11, 1892, under condition that I should not be used as a witness against him.

Henry Lewin, the dealer in second-hand furniture who bought the furniture in the flat 320 East Thirtieth street, after the funeral of Brandt, was called as a witness. He identified Muller as the man from whom he bought the furniture.

Mr. Brooke asked no questions, but Juror Aschheim did, eliciting that the witness found the single bed (Brandt's) standing in the room, and that it was in the kitchen—a position which would permit of Muller, if the kitchen, seeing Brandt plainly.

Thomas W. Lear, identified Muller. Dr. Meyer and Mrs. Meyer as the party who came to the flat in the flat 320 East Thirtieth street, in 1892, identified Muller as the man from whom he bought the furniture.

Alfred Englebach identified Muller as a man he saw in his brother's saloon, 224 First avenue, and that he saw him two weeks in February and March, 1892.

Annie O'Hearn, of 324 East Thirtieth street, but who lived at 320 East Thirtieth street, in 1892, identified Muller as the man from whom he bought the furniture.

Mr. O'Hearn identified Brandt's photograph as a picture of the dead Baum, whom she had never seen in life.

Zachariah Hermanson, a watchman, of 275 De Graw street, Brooklyn, and other witnesses came next to testify that when he lived in Chicago in 1888-9, he edited a Scandinavian newspaper and knew and saw Muller, who was living in 1888 and 1890 as an advertising agent.

He identified the photographs. Mr. O'Hearn identified Brandt's photograph as a picture of the dead Baum, whom she had never seen in life.

MRS. CAMPANO HAS VANISHED.

Police Asked to Look for the Wealthy Divorced Woman.

Friends Believe She Has Fallen Into the Hands of Thieves.

Friends of Mrs. Josephine Campano, the divorced wife of Juan Campano, a member of the cigar manufacturing firm of F. Miranda & Co., 222 Pearl street, are much concerned over her mysterious disappearance several weeks ago.

Mrs. Campano is well known in Spanish-American circles. Her attorney, Mr. R. R. Randal, has notified Supt. Byrnes. He believes that some harm has befallen her, and that she is now in the hands of unscrupulous people, who are detaining her in order to get possession of her valuable jewelry and large bank account.

Mr. Randal has not seen Mrs. Campano since early in March. She is somewhat mentally unbalanced. The last heard of her was when she was a guest at the Gedgey House a week or so before it was closed, which was in the latter end of March.

J. Verano, editor of El Progreso, shares Randal's apprehensions. He saw Mrs. Campano at the Gedgey House shortly before her disappearance. Juan Campano said to-day that he had not seen Mrs. Campano since 1892, when the divorce was granted. He has had no communication with her of any kind.

Mrs. Campano, it is said, secured $5,000 at the time of her divorce, and recently received her share of an inheritance in France. She has an account with Seligman Brothers, bankers, at 15 Broad street, which it is thought, quite considerable. To-day it was stated at the bank, that Mrs. Campano's last check was presented and paid on Feb. 18, 1894, and that it was for a bill at the Gedgey House. Since then they have not heard from her. Any check that may be presented from now on at the bank, will be closely scrutinized and traced.

Mrs. Campano is thirty-four years old, a native of Alsace, France, well proportioned, and has dark hair. After her divorce she lived in the Garfield Flat, West Fifty-sixth street, near Eighth avenue. She moved to several hotels in succession.

She has a sister and brother in France who are most anxious about her. She has no relatives in this country.

VICTIMS OF A PADRONE.

Italians Resume Work After Threatening Trouble.

(By Associated Press.)

WELLSBORO, Pa., May 4.—The strike of the Italian railroad laborers on the new extension of the Buffalo and Susquehanna road is over, and about 600 of the men resumed work yesterday.

About 350 of the strikers, armed with guns, pistols, knives and clubs, marched up the road towards Gaines on Wednesday and threatened to destroy the town. Constable Black and a posse of fifteen or twenty well-armed men halted the strikers at the outskirts of the village, and three of the strikers were arrested and locked up. The strikers then became demoralized and retreated.

Wednesday night, when a raid was expected on the town, every other man in Gaines carried a gun or pistol. The strikers were nearly every day for workmen who were induced to come from New York City by a padrone, who told them that they would be paid $1.25 a day. When the men found that the interpreter had deceived them, and that the padrone had deceived them, they would have killed him had he not sought police protection.

ADLAI'S MINERS STRIKE.

Men Quit Work in Bloomington, Trinidad and Staunton.

(By Associated Press.)

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 4.—The 225 miners employed by the McLean County Coal Company here, the Company of which Vice-President Stevenson is President, decided last night to strike. The chief cause of the strike is sympathy for their fellow miners, although the strikers here ask for increased wages.

TRINIDAD, Col., May 4.—The Engle miners have struck because they object to being taken in by a padrone, who has won their great strike on the Great American system, was given a public reception here last night on his return home. His train was met at the depot by a brass band and a large number of deputations from local labor organizations.

President Debs was escorted to the Terrell Hotel, where he was given a cordial reception. He was met by a large number of people, and he made an enthusiastic speech. An address of welcome was presented to him by the mayor. The president made no reference to the older brotherhood, but put himself on record as favoring the strikers as a means of settling labor disputes.

DEBS WELCOMED HOME.

A. R. V. President Greeted by a Great Crowd at Terre Haute.

(By Associated Press.)

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 4.—President Eugene V. Debs, of the new American system, was given a public reception here last night on his return home. His train was met at the depot by a brass band and a large number of deputations from local labor organizations.

President Debs was escorted to the Terrell Hotel, where he was given a cordial reception. He was met by a large number of people, and he made an enthusiastic speech. An address of welcome was presented to him by the mayor. The president made no reference to the older brotherhood, but put himself on record as favoring the strikers as a means of settling labor disputes.

ST. LOUIS WOMEN STRIKE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 4.—A majority of the 200 or more men of the different trades who are employed at the new Union Depot, struck last night, and the remainder will go out to-day.

The trouble is caused by the employment of a number of non-union people. The strikers are demanding that the non-union people be discharged.

HARRISON EXPECTED TO-DAY.

Apartment House Has Been Engaged at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Ex-President Harrison did not arrive at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning, as was expected. A telegram, however, from his private secretary was received, which stated that the Hoosier statesman would probably reach town some time this afternoon or this evening.

Apartment houses were engaged for him at the hotel two days ago, and it is expected that he will remain in town at least a week.

The special object of his visit to New York has not been announced, but it is believed that he will be here to attend to some business of the East, and to confer with the laying of pipes for 1895.

WIFE'S SISTER HIS ACCUSER.

On Her Evidence Mrs. Adams Gets a Divorce.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Adams, of 217 West Thirty-eighth street, was to-day granted a decree of absolute divorce from Harvey H. Adams, a travelling salesman, by Judge McAdam, of the Supreme Court.

Julia Adams testified that on April 2 she found Adams in a room with one, Bertha Ludlow.

TO TEST QUARANTINE RULES,

Men Caged in a Stable Demand Their Liberty.

They Would Not Let a Health Physician Vaccinate Them.

Lawyer Charles J. Patterson, of Brooklyn, this morning obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Justice Gaynor of the Supreme Court, requiring Health Commissioner Emery to produce in court William H. Smith and Thomas Cummings, and to show cause why he should not raise the quarantine from their stable at 129 and 131 Franklin street. Smith and Cummings conduct an express business.

A case of small-pox was discovered in the vicinity a few days ago, and was removed to the pest-house at Flatbush. A corps of physicians were sent to vaccinate the people living on the block.

When the doctors arrived at the express office they met with a refusal of permission to enter. The expressmen would not be vaccinated, but promised to have their family doctors inoculate them. The doctors, however, refused to do so, and the expressmen were kept for twenty-four hours to keep their promise.

The following day the doctors called again and found that the men had not been vaccinated. The building was quarantined and Smith and Cummings were kept in the stable. The Health Department to-day confirmed the diagnosis of the case of Rufus L. Scott, the colored actor, who was taken to the pest-house yesterday as a small-pox suspect. Scott has not appeared this week in "The South Before the War," now playing at the Star Theatre, but has been in the company of many of the people employed in the show. As a precautionary measure the whole company and stage hands, numbering sixty people, were vaccinated last night.

"JERSEY" MORRIS MISSING.

By a Trick He Escapes from the Fort Wadsworth Prison.

"Jersey" Morris is no longer Private Morris, of Battery C, stationed at Fort Wadsworth. He enlisted last Summer from Jersey City, where he was celebrated as a prize fighter and a similar amusement. Soldier duty was too monotonous for him, however, so in the middle of the summer he was caught shortly afterwards and was put in prison, awaiting transfer to Fort Mifflin, Kan., to serve a sentence of a year and a half.

Morris didn't relish the idea of being sent to Fort Mifflin, so a few nights ago at 9 o'clock, he rapped on his cell door and a sentinel responded to find out what he wanted.

"Open the door quick," he cried in a stifled voice, "this place is full of smoke."

The sentinel opened the door and looked for the flames. While he was looking Morris disappeared, ran to the railroad and jumped from a bridge to the top of a moving train. He hasn't been seen since, and the guard and sentinel have been court-martialed.

$1,000,000 FIRE IN DUBLIN.

Arnott & Co. Burned Out—300 Lives

Were in Danger.

(By Associated Press.)

DUBLIN, May 4.—The large wholesale and retail drapery, carpet, curtain, upholstery and cabinet stores of Arnott & Co. (limited), 11 to 15 Henry street, this city, were completely destroyed by fire this morning. Three hundred employees of the establishment, who were sleeping on the premises, succeeded in escaping.

The offices of the Freeman's Journal, adjoining the building of Arnott & Co., caught fire, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. Lord Mayor Dillon was present at the conflagration, and a strong force of troops assisted the firemen.

The damage done is estimated at $1,000,000.

ANARCHISTS SENTENCED.

Long Terms for Farnaro and Polti at London.

(By Associated Press.)
